ENERGY ADVANTAGE PROGRAMS

ENERGY * ENVIRONMENT * ERGONOMICS

C.H. Reed, Inc. provides manufacturers with insightful ideas, concepts, & sustainable solutions that utilize the latest advances in technology to optimize productivity and reduce plant operating expenses.

COMPRESSED AIR * ASSEMBLY TOOLS * PAINT FINISHING

- * C.H. Reed partners with highly reputable energy consultants with extensive backgrounds working with businesses in the industrial sector.
- * Through these partnerships, we are able to deliver complete energy programs and demand-side management strategies that lower load requirements for utilities, reduce energy bills for end users, and lessen the environmental impact on our communities.

"INSIGHTFUL SOLUTIONS FOR THE INDUSTRIAL MARKETPLACE"

ENERGY AUDITS

- * Energy consumption has been a rising issue across all industry sectors because of its immediate impact on production costs.
- * Our goal is to conserve energy in your building, system, & overall process through a series of comprehensive energy analyses.
- * Field measurements will be taken to identify opportunities & develop a plan for continuous improvement in production efficiency. To learn more about the benefits of an audit, contact C.H. Reed today.

UTILITY REBATES

- * New system projects that deliver increased efficiencies can very often qualify for utility rebates from local electric service providers in your territory. Reed's energy partners can maximize rebate dollars on an array of projects.
- * These programs are designed to incent you, the end user, to invest in newer, energy efficient equipment to decrease the energy demand (KW) and consumption (KWH) in your facility. For more information about our rebate applications, Contact us today.

OTHER SERVICES

- * C.H. Reed has an extensive assortment of consulting & system services designed to maximize cost saving opportunities within your manufacturing facility. From design & engineering services to turnkey installations, our goal is to help you identify value adding opportunities that improve the effectiveness of your overall process.
- * We will help you find and integrate the best comprehensive solution for your strategic needs. When you partner with C.H. Reed, operational excellence isn't everything, it's the only thing.
